

Children's Classic Mysteries

Children's Classic Mystery Series

Classic mystery series for older children.
(Elementary 3rd – 8th)

My children loved mysteries—it must be hereditary.

Growing up, I loved to read mystery stories. My favorites were the Nancy Drew series and the Trixie Belden series. I read all of those books several times. When my son was learning to read, he did not enjoy reading very much until he discovered the Three Cousins Detective books. This changed his mind about reading. He liked the characters and he liked the stories.

Children love a good mystery. Here are some best children's mystery series that are wholesome, though not necessarily Christian.

Make sure you get the older version of these books. When books are updated, vocabulary is simplified and negative behavior and attitudes are added. Go for the old!

Encyclopedia Brown by Donald J. Sobol

Encyclopedia Brown lives in Idaville, Florida, a typical American town. His friend, Sally helps him to solve mysteries. Bugs Meany appears in many of the stories as the perennial villain. Each chapter is a short mystery and readers can look up the solution in the back of the book. These books are charming and funny.

Sugar Creek Gang Mysteries

Paul Hutchens, author of the Sugar Creek Gang series, created books for young boys and girls to impact them for Christ. Raised on a farm in the township of Sugar Creek near Thorntown, Indiana, Paul grew up in a large family and attended a one room country schoolhouse. With a passion to lead people to Christ, Paul attended Moody Bible Institute, was ordained as a Baptist pastor in 1925, and married Jane Freerks, a pianist. Paul loved to sing while his pretty bride accompanied him on the piano. Tuberculosis cut Paul's ministry short so he tried his hand at writing. He wrote several books, including the beloved Sugar Creek Gang series, and sheet music books. All of Paul's books were written to lead people to Christ or help them to walk more closely with their Savior. His daughter and her husband continue Paul's ministry.

The Sugar Creek gang consists of Bill Collins, the narrator, Leslie Thompson, Roy "Dragonfly" Gilbert, Dan "Circus" Brown, Big Jim, Tom Till, and Jim "Little Jim" Foote. These loveable boys face adventure after adventure, learning lessons about God as they go.

Trixie Belden Mysteries

Trixie Belden is thirteen years old when the series begins, has her fourteenth birthday in a later book, and remains fourteen for the rest of the series. The first books take place naturally with seasons changing from summer to fall, fall to winter, and winter to spring. Trixie has three brothers: handsome Brian, funny Mart, and little brother, Bobby. Her best friend is Honey Wheeler, who has an adopted brother named Jim. The Wheelers are very wealthy with stables, a pool, and a large estate. The Beldens live on a farm. This tight-knit group is joined by friends, Diana Lynch and Dan Morgan. They are all members of a club, Bob-Whites of Glen, that helps people in need and helps Trixie solve mysteries. Trixie is always getting into various scrapes and troubles from which she is rescued by her loyal friends.

Nancy Drew Mysteries

As a young girl, like my mother before me, Nancy Drew captured my imagination with her talent, beauty, brains, compassion, and incredible ability to solve mysteries. I wanted to grow up to solve mysteries too. Plucky Nancy Drew can do everything and do it better than anyone else. I loved the way she was so brave when she was investigating, facing danger without hesitation.

Nancy lived in the good old Americana town of River Heights with her widowed father, Carson, an attorney, and her motherly housekeeper, Hannah Gruen. Nancy solves many mysteries in her hometown, but also travels a lot to nearby places and even overseas to Hong Kong, Scotland, Peru, France, Turkey, and Japan. My favorite setting was the story where Nancy and her friends travelled to Hawaii.

Hardy Boys Mysteries

Frank Hardy, 16, star athlete and honor student, solves mysteries with the help of his brother, Joe, 15, strong and fit. Their father, Fenton Hardy is a private detective and former NYPD detective. His cases often tie in with the boys' cases. Laura Hardy, their sweet mother, and Aunt Gertrude Hardy are often in the background of their adventures.

Chet Morton, best friend, and his sister, Iola, Callie Shaw, Allen "Biff" Hooper, Phil Cohen, Jerry Gilroy, and Tony Prito are all part of the Hardy boys' gang of friends. They help Frank and Joe solve the mystery. Chief Ezra Collig starts out in the early stories jealous of their success, but as the series progresses, turns into a friend.
